TSA CURATION PROCEDURES

All exhibitors must be financial members.

- All items shall be clearly labelled with: artist name, title of item, medium type and price
- Copyright: work must be original and not a reproduction; not from a workshop, art class, online or TV tutorial or book. Photographs must be a stated limited edition.
- The Curator will usually be first to see the work of a new exhibitor but should not hang the work without giving fellow-curators to assess the item. If the work is accepted, it will be exhibited as space allows. Paintings are expected to arrive complete with D-rings evenly positioned on the work so that it can be comfortably attached to the display system. Eyelets, wire, string, cord do not work on our hanging system
- Member's works for display will be submitted to the Curation Committee for acceptance before being displayed in the Gallery.
- To have items on display members are required to be paid up financial members of the Society for the duration of the exhibition of their works.
- You are required to insure your Gallery display or Exhibition items against any damage, loss or theft of the item and you agree that the Society is not liable for such damage, loss or theft whilst at the Gallery
- Photos of members work may be used in promotional activities
- It is in the best interests of all, that works are moved around the gallery regularly. No member has a right to any particular position in the gallery. Works may be moved on and off display
- All work will be displayed at the discretion of the Curators.
- When notified by the curator the work is in storage the work shall be collected promptly by the member.
- No other member or volunteer should hang, change or move their work except to sign it out.
- Should your membership lapse for 3 months (30 June), your item becomes the property of the Society for disposal as the Society deems fit.

Exhibitions

Exhibitions may have Conditions of Entry (for example dates, themes) which need to be adhered to by the exhibitor
